Alternative HR – Results

We were really pleased with how the magazine turned out, and we had a number of great comments from friends and clients. In fact, we got a call from a local business owner congratulated us on the spotlight, and reminded us that we had helped his company hire a new employee 30 years ago – an employee who has since become their Director of Operations! The bonus was that it also opened the door to additional business! We are proud to be associated with FACES

We've invested in a lot of different marketing over the years, but I can honestly say Faces is something I can't imagine ever not doing annually. The exposure is unlike anything else—we constantly have people mentioning they saw us in the magazine, whether it's at the grocery store, a community event, or even just catching up with old clients. It's incredible how it sticks with people all year long. The design and presentation were top-notch, and the credibility it brings to our brand is invaluable. Faces isn't just a feature—it's become a foundational part of our marketing strategy.
